Statement from NAHB Rick Judson on House GOP Immigration Reform Standards

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30 - Rick Judson, chairman of the National Association of Home Builders (NAHB) and a home builder and developer from Charlotte, N.C., today issued the following statement on immigration reform standards outlined by the House Republican leadership:

"We applaud the House Republicans for introducing a plan to address immigration reform. The standards reflect a balanced approach to address the country's broken immigration system. Effective reform can help revitalize the economy and housing sector. The nation's home builders look forward to working with Congress to create a fair and efficient immigration system that achieves these aims and protects the nation's borders."
